“IT COSTS MORE TO RAISE A SORRY PLANT
THAN A GOOD ONE”

1926

Price lists

Why, be this juice the growth of God who dare,
Blaspheme the twisted tendril as a snare?
A blessing, we should use it, should we not?
And if a curse—why, then, who set it there?

Of the above, the following may be depended upon, with proper care, for large or small plantings: Armalaga, Brilliant, Beacon, Carman, Champanell, Ellen Scott, Edna, Fern, Herbermont, Headlight, H-I, Lukfata, Manito, Mathilda, Marguerite, Munson R. W., Sabinal, Volney, Wapanuka.

It is unusual to advertise the weaknesses of a product offered for sale. However, nothing attains perfection, and it is better to start with complete knowledge of the bad as well as good qualities. Bear in mind, however, that none of the qualities or weaknesses are such as to interfere with the profitable culture thereof. Lacking high resistance to disease: Armalaga, Ellen Scott, Mathilda, Volney. Lacking high quality: Beacon, Carman, Fern, Herbermont, Marguerite, Champanell. Lacking good shipping qualities: Wapanuka.

To those wishing a few vines for home planting, we will make a special selection of eight vines covering early, medium and late varieties, for $2.00. Ready for shipment with full instructions for planting and care.

EUROPEAN OR OLD WORLD GRAPES

(Commonly Called California Grapes)

After experimenting with some 150 varieties of these grapes, we are offering a limited number of plants and cuttings of those listed below, which have shown themselves worthy of further trial in Florida. We have marked with an asterik (*), those varieties which have shown the most promise of all, and we can almost recommend some of them for small commercial plantings. All of them will return to the home planter, a reward in quantity and quality of fruit, greatly in excess of the investment in time and money required.

Cuttings of these foreign varieties, are 10c each; $5.00 per 100; prices of rooted vines on application.
